Types of higher education institutions

Higher education is acquired at universities and other higher education institutions which can be established as either public or private. University and other educational institutions are independent in teaching, research and artistic work.

Education fields

The Law on Higher Education, drafted in accordance with the principles of the Bologna Declaration, was adopted on October 21, 2003.

Each institution of higher education that has been established and organises a teaching process in the Republic of Montenegro must have a licence for work issued by the Ministry of Education and Science. An institution can be issued a licence upon issuance of a certificate of accreditation of a study programme by the Council of Higher Education. The procedure of accreditation implies establishing validity of study programmes and their compliance with the valid standards of quality and the labour market, as well as conferring a certificate allowing the institution to award levels of education, qualifications and types of profession.

Educational process in the institutions of higher education is realised through academic and applied study programmes, as well as through different programmes of professional education and training. The structure of the higher education system is based on these cycles: undergraduate, postgraduate and doctoral.

Studies in the institutions of higher education are realised in accordance with the rules of studying based on the European Credit Transfer System (ECTS).

Students and institutions conclude an agreement on studying defining their mutual rights and obligations. Foreign citizens may also enrol in a study programme.

21. oktobra 2003. godine usvojen je Zakon o visokom obrazovanju, koji je urađen u skladu sa principima Bolonjske Deklaracije.

Svaka ustanova koja je osnovana ili izvodi nastavu u Republici Crnoj Gori mora imati licencu za rad, koju izdaje Ministarstvo prosvjete i nauke. Ustanovi se može izdati licenca nakon dobijanja sertifikata o akreditaciji studijskog programa od strane Savjeta. Postupak akreditacije podrazumijeva utvrđivanje validnosti studijskih programa, njihove primjerenosti važećim standardima kvaliteta i tržištu rada i sertifikat obezbjeđivanja prava ustanovi na dodjelu stepena obrazovanja, zanimanja i profesije.

Obrazovna djelatnost na ustanovama visokog obrazovanja ostvaruje se kroz akademske i primijenjene studijske programe, kao i kroz raznovrsne programe stručnog usavršavanja i posposobljavanja. Struktura visokoobrazovnog sistema bazirana je na tri ciklusa i to: dodiplomski (osnovne studije), postdiplomski i doktorski.

Studije na ustanovama visokog obrazovanja ostvaruju se u skladu sa pravilima studiranja zasnovanim na Evropskom sistemu transfera kredita (ECTS – European Credit Transfer System).

Za određene programe mogu se odrediti i dodatni uslovi. Status studenta stiče se upisom na studijski program. Studenti i ustanova zaključuju ugovor o studiranju, u kome se definišu međusobna prava i obaveze. Pravo upisa na studijski program imaju i strani državljani.

Diplome i stepeni koji se stiču nakon završetka studijskog programa su:
